

BEARGRASS RAILWAY SUBURBAN LINES

BY MARY KNIGHT HOGUE.

The Salt River Division.

The Orell or Salt River division, running a little to the southeast out the Eighteenth street road, is the longest line of the Beargrass Railway, covering a distance of fourteen and eight miles from the terminal station to Orell, at the end of the line. It is hoped, will soon be extended to Meadowlawn, Kosmosdale and West Point, at the mouth of Salt river. This line equals any of the others in point of attractiveness. Just outside of the city limits over the east are seen the Bernheim and Wathen distilleries; while a little farther along are two large frame houses, conspicuous landmarks—painted white—with green shutters, and extensive grounds—while, it is said, are old residences remodeled and refurnished; but the names of occupants or present owners your correspondent failed definitely to learn.

However, the first point of great interest on this road is the little village of St. Helens. Indeed, your correspondent could not refrain from alighting and taking a stroll through the town. My first conversation was with the "village blacksmith," at the smithy under the spreading sycamore tree." Next we visited the rectory of the church of St. Helens and met with Father Pfeiffer, the goodly priest in charge. Yes, even sat and chatted with him "under his own vine and fig tree." St. Helens' church has been built about nine years, and has a well-attended parochial school attached where the gentle sisters instruct the young of the parish.

At St. Helens, also, is the "getting off place," if one wishes to visit the Home for the Aged and Infirm, which is about a block from the electric line. It is a splendid building, with most inviting grounds; and if the inmates are accorded comforts and treatment in keeping with the surroundings it certainly is a grand retreat for these unfortunate to get out life's little troubles a little farther on is the Eruptive Hospital. Both of these institutions are on the Salt river road, a short distance from the electric car line.

After passing Hunter's Trace and Elmwood, the approach to Pleasure Ridge affords a beautiful view, with the long row of hills or ridges extending all the way from Jacob Park Hill to Pleasure Ridge Park, where there is a good deal of riding, but very little park. This could, however, be made—

An ideal place to while away

An hour or so on a warm summer day.

At this station is the telephone exchange, hotel, general store, and a few dwellings scattered about within a stone's throw to keep them company. Near here, also, is the new Bechtel Baptist church, which was dedicated a few days ago. Then we came to the plant of the Hydrant Brick Company, at which a good deal of business seems to be carried on; and then a distillery which seems to be getting in its work grading out good old Kentucky corn jules, or rye, and, again, the school-house, which "sits by the roadside," but is not a "ragged beggar sunning," for during five days each week of the school term it is teeming with life; and some old shells of houses, no doubt.

"Mansions in which used to be Free-holders' hospitality."

At Postoria is the pretty residence of Dr. S. S. Fox, who is a son-in-law of the venerable Dr. Mills, of Louisville. Here, the veritable "tail-prow trees their shadows throw" across the road, on the opposite side of which is the home of J. H. Wilkinson. Some of the large land owners along this route are E. V. Thompson, Wm. F. Adams and J. M. and Wm. C. Kennedy. Mr. Adams lives at Bechtel, but his getting off place is Mt. Adams, the station being in his honor. Near here also is Waverly Hill, the home of Major Thos. H. Hayes. Mr. Kennedy, your correspondent was not informed whether J. M. or Wm. C.—is making an effort to renew the prestige of old Postoria, at which this end has built a number of houses. This is near—the next station perhaps—to Postoria. At Penley Station is shipped daily from 100 to 170 gallons of "certified milk," from the Penley dairy.

Near Valley Station, where is the semblance of a town, we find "harmony in religion." The Disciples of Christ and the Baptists worship in the same church building, which is owned by the first named denomination. Not far away is Bethany Methodist church. There is also a postoffice at which the rural mail on three routes is delivered.

At Wilson's Station is "West Meath," the home of Dr. S. S. Reynolds. On this line thirty truck gardens, in which toothsome vegetables in great variety are grown, hold prominent place. Also some fine orchards and good farm land. The fruit is not so much in evidence this season, but the grain and other products are abundant.

The scenery along this line is not behind that of the other suburban lines in attractiveness and variety. When the eye gets tired of resting on the level, or rolling land, farms, gardens, orchards, etc., and the profusion of wild flowers bordering the road and filling every nook and corner of the fields from which they have not been uprooted, then we have the wooded knolls of Jefferson county to the east and the Indiana knolls to the west.

At Orell, just at the end of the line, is the pretty new home of C. G. Birdwell, one of the employees of this road, to whom your correspondent owes much information obtained concerning people and points of interest along this route.

Jeffersontown Division.

Last, but by no means least, is the Jeffersontown line or division, which traverses a distance of twelve and one half miles of Jefferson county territory. It is a splendid line, with some of the most prominent citizens of Louisville have "shaken the dust of the city from their feet," and have moved out, "bag and baggage," to some point on or near this line, where they reside all the year round—citizens of the county, if you please.

Have you ever taken a ride on this line? It is a shame for any citizen of Louisville or Jefferson county to admit that he has been east, west, north and south, visiting places of note, raving over the fine farm and garden lands, and gazing with admiring eye on old relics and landmarks elsewhere, while he is unacquainted even with what may be seen from the car window on one of our electric lines. As for the Jeffersontown line, if there were nothing of interest along the route, the goal, old Jeffersontown, at the end of the line, would be worth the running. Get out and stroll about the old town, and you will find the business activity. What an awakening after so many years of lassitude and comparative rest or hibernation. And all due to what? The suburban line.

I have known persons who crossed the ocean to view the wonders of the Old World, and were mortified on being quizzed in regard to the beauty and grandeur of Mammoth Cave, one of the wonders of the New World, having to admit that "they had never visited it." A word to the wise is sufficient. Pardon the parenthesis.

Douglas Boulevard, which branches off to the southeast from this line, is not far from the city limits and one of the recent improvements in this locality, is a part of the Douglas estate, which some Douglas, I am told, was a "country gentleman of the old school." The wife of Mr. L. D. Carter, who has his residence in this boulevard, is a daughter of this fine old gentleman who is now dead, and an heir to the estate.

Between Douglas Boulevard and the city limits are several splendid homes, which not many years ago were considered nearly a day's journey from the city; but now, behold! they are brought almost within its limits, not altogether by the growth of the metropolis, but by the better and more expeditious facilities for travel.

Not far from Douglas Boulevard is Donny's Point—somebody's settlement, thank you, with stores, residences and some other necessary adjuncts of a town.

Farther along is Hikes' Point. Here, again, we have the semblance of a village. Here, no doubt, our forefathers, whilom congregated to spend—

"An evening in the quaint old country store."

Near here is the old Hikes' Point place, a large brick house with the proverbial "wide hall" in the middle and rooms on either side and set well back from the road behind a clump of ancient cedars. This property, which still has considerable land attached, is now owned and occupied by W. H. Hunsinger. Other notable places along this route are the Emory Low place, the Kennedy place, and the Punk place. On the two last named, though they have passed into other hands, the homesteads are still standing, and are among the oldest landmarks in the county. Still another old, old place on this line is the Hoke place just a little way out from Jeffersontown, near the Southern depot, which has now passed into the hands of the Stark family and is occupied as a summer home by Mr. Joseph Burge, of the Pease-Gaulter Company, of Louisville, who married a Miss Stark. One of the handsome pieces of property on this route is that of Dr. Ross, whose widow has recently passed away. By the provisions of her will a son was disinherited, and the estate is now in litigation.

Attached to some of these old places are the "family burying grounds," wherein rest some of the early settlers of the county.

"Sleep, old pioneer! Nature's arms around you pressing. Nature's lips your brow caressing. Sleep, old pioneer!"

Some of the homes worthy of note near Jeffersontown are Edgeland, the residence of Mr. E. R. Sprowl, who does a thriving real estate and insurance business in the old town, and is one of its most worthy citizens; the pretty and attractive new home of Prof. R. H. Snively, a teacher in the Boy's High School in Louisville; and Cedar Croft, the beautiful home of Mr. L. C. Owings, a dealer in fine stock.

Between the Owings' property and Hikes' Point are far reaching views of gently rolling or almost level land with wooded background, where the foliage of the trees is just beginning to show variegated hues; while in the foreground are set the autumnal shrub flowers. In every tree.

"Paintings which long years ago were done By that old splendid artist king—the Sun."

These lands constitute some of the finest farms and gardens in Jefferson county. In fact they can not be surpassed anywhere. Here it is that we see most potent factor of all—

"The laboring man With sun-trod faces and horn-grooved hands, 'Or bind their hands, or fetter their feet, And what would the gaunt world have to say?"

There are many other places and points of interest along these lines, but I must bide my enthusiasm and desist from further expatiating at the present time, or my readers will mistake me for an eight-day clock, or make me akin to the brook, which, you know, "runs on forever." But "before we part" let us hurry! For the suburban lines, and pray that the good work may go on until there shall not be a town, village or even a corner of Jefferson county, but that may be conveniently reached by a suburban line, while, with our other voice we return thanks to those who have made these things possible.

GILFORD ALSOP

Prominent Citizen of Kosmosdale Passes Away After Short Illness of Uremia—Mourning By Many Friends.

Kosmosdale, Oct. 23.—Gilford D. Alsop, one of the most prominent men in this section, died at his home here Monday morning of acute uremic poisoning after an illness of several weeks.

Mr. Alsop was sixty years of age and was born near Valley Station, where he lived for many years. He was at one time a county patrolman, but at the time of his death was employed by the Kosmosdale Cement Co. He was an active member of the Bechtel Baptist church, and was beloved by a host of friends on account of his loyalty to them and his many good qualities of head and heart.

His wife, two sisters, Mrs. J. W. Knadler and Mrs. George M. Waller, three daughters, Mrs. Walter Drake and Misses Jessie and Sue Alsop, and three sons, Bruce, Henry and Allan Alsop, survive the deceased, all of whom reside in this vicinity.

The funeral services, conducted by the Rev. Henry Davis, of Louisville, formerly pastor of the Bechtel church and an intimate friend of the Alsop family, took place Tuesday afternoon, followed by the burial in Bethany cemetery at Valley Station.

NEWBURG.

Oct. 21.—Elder J. E. Thornberry preached at the Christian church last Sunday morning and evening.

Miss Virginia Lynum has returned home after a pleasant visit in Bourbon county.

Elder Ben Cox will preach at Newburg the second Sunday in November. Elder J. E. Thornberry will preach the first and third Sundays in November.

OCTOBER GARDENING.

BY SARAH JORDAN.

In the beginning God created man and woman, and for their ideal habitation He gave them a garden; deep down in every human heart there is still that primal instinctive love of the soil, of growing things, of blossoming flowers that survives no matter where man is located or how many generations he may have lived in great cities.

An experienced kindergarten teacher told me she had tested the poor, miserable children of the slums of New York and London by offering them a flower or stick of candy, and in nine cases out of ten the poor, starved little fellow refused the candy and took the flower. I am something of an enthusiast on the subject, and I want every reader of The Jeffersonian to have a garden, and to take a very personal active interest in it. I hear some tired housewife and mother say, "I know that is crazy to talk to me about flowers; it is all I can do to get through with my housework indoors, and the sewing! and these children! My head aches and my back aches long before I am through."

I know all that. I have done the housework! I have done the sewing! I have helped with the babies, and I have known I had a head and a back, but I have found outdoor interests a panacea for these conditions of mind and body, and you are the very woman who needs fresh air, sunshine and outdoor work most.

For a beginning invest just a quarter in crocus bulbs (leave a tuck or two out of the baby's dress, he will not care to take all the children with you, and get a sharp knife and a hoe. Go out on the sunny side of your house, and here and there lift a small piece of soil, chop the ground under, and plant your bulbs in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet the sunshine.) Make several of these little flower-beds and by the time you are through I am sure you will feel refreshed, and the children will be highly entertained, and some day in early March or April as the snow is melting away or you will look out under the trees in little colonies, say ten in a place, about two or three inches apart, put back the sod and let the children have a job tramping it firmly back in place. (Tell the children a story about the little flowers that will sleep all winter in their little brown dresses and how they will unfold in the spring and push little bright faces up through the grass to meet

THE JEFFERSONIAN

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY.

A Local Newspaper, Published Every Thursday
For the People of All the County.

ALCOCK & BARRICKMAN, Publishers
W. C. BARRICKMAN, Editor.

J. C. ALCOCK, Business Manager.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE $1.00 PER YEAR
PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.

Entered as second-class matter June 12, 1907,
at the postoffice at Jeffersontown, Kentucky,
under the act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1907.

Won't You Help?

The Citizens Committee of Louisville, which was formed for the purpose of bringing to Louisville one of the national political conventions next summer, is engaged this week in enlisting the support of the market growers and fruit growers of Jefferson county.

The Citizens Committee decided that it had small chance of securing the Republican National Convention. Everything indicates success for the market. Louisville is practically assured of the convention, provided she raises a sufficient guaranty fund to defray the expenses—a fund of some $60,000.00.

To no class of business will a convention like this, attracting to the city 40,000 to 50,000 strangers who will spend their money liberally, be more beneficial than to the farmers, who will be called upon to feed the strangers. The Citizens Committee has called upon those who will be directly benefited to defray their just share of the expense. Such a convention will circulate among the farmers, between $75,000 and $100,000 for fruits and vegetables, and the market growers should bear their proportion of the expense. Unless every class of industry interested in the project responds liberally, the guaranty fund can not be raised. It is "up to" the market growers to raise $5,000 for this fund, and in order to do so, every individual grower must contribute liberally. This is not a charity enterprise, but a business proposition in which those interested will secure many times the amount invested in returns next summer in the midst of the market season.

In the event that Louisville fails to secure the convention, all contributions will be returned intact to the contributors.

It is believed that every citizen of the county will realize the importance of acting promptly in this matter and will respond liberally.

VALLEY STATION

Oct. 22.—John Burnett, of Louisville, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Burnett.

W. C. Kennedy is spending a week with relatives in Palestine, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Stonestreet have returned from a visit with relatives at Brooks.

Mrs. Kennedy Park returned to her home in Palestine, Ohio, last Wednesday after spending two weeks with Mrs. Aurelia K. Jones.

Mrs. S. S. Watson has returned from a visit to Lexington and Versailles.

Miss Ivy Lyon returned last Tuesday from a visit with relatives in Russellville.

Miss Ethel Carter entertained a number of young friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Carter, last Monday afternoon from three to five o'clock, the occasion being her eighth birthday anniversary. About twenty young people were present. Little Miss Carter received many pretty birthday presents.

Miss Janet Foss, who is attending school in Louisville, spent the week-end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Foss.

Miss Anna May Miller has returned from a visit with Mrs. J. P. Swindler, of Park View.

Miss Sherman Dodge spent last week in Louisville with Miss Florence Sheppard.

The Rev. E. D. Bogges and family, of Tohu, Ky., arrived this week. Mr. Bogges will take charge of the Bethany M. E. church.

Misses Rachael and Dorothy Moremen attended the Bates-Wedding in Louisville last Wednesday evening.

Professor Lee Napier, of Highland Park, who has been ill at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Napier, is very much improved.

Mrs. Elizabeth Graham, of Adlene, Texas, and Mrs. Anna Penley were guests of Mrs. L. P. Moremen for several days.

The Jeffersonian and the Louisville Herald daily except Sunday, both for a year, $2.75.

Old papers for sale at this office.

MIDDLETOWN

Oct. 21.—Mrs. and Mrs. Thomas Johnson chaperoned a party of young people to Fisherville Friday night, who gave the Misses Nicholson, of Fisherville, a surprise euchre party. Mrs. John Tharp entertained informally at dinner Wednesday for Misses Alice and Hattie Yenowine and Mrs. Sam Wetherby.

Miss Mayme Arterburn is spending a few days in Louisville with Miss Mary Stockch.

Mrs. William Wood, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Peary, Mrs. Leonard Jones and daughter, Miss Lizzie, spent Thursday at Anchorage with Mrs. Harley Wood.

Mrs. H. G. Downs, of Evansville, Ind., and Mrs. Leo Fisher, of Huntington, Ind., are guests of Mrs. C. F. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schenck, of Louisville, visited Mrs. Schenck's sister, Mrs. S. D. Wetherby, this week.

Dr. Sam Wetherby has returned from a week's stay in Chicago.

"Sister" Emily and Lula Markham, concluding after a visit with friends in Louisville and are now with Mrs. C. L. Duff.

Mrs. L. M. Brown has returned to La Grange after spending a week with Mrs. William Howard.

Mrs. F. D. Durr, Mrs. Slaughter, Miss Maud Durr and Mrs. W. E. Reel have been the guests of Mrs. A. C. Durr this week.

Misses Minnie and Nellie Bornhauser entertained delightfully at luncheon for a few friends Wednesday. The table was artistically decorated with nasturtiums and covers were laid for seven.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hindman, who have been taking an extensive eastern trip, visited their nieces, Misses Josephine and Lucile Gwathmey, this week en route to their home in Tusculuma, Alabama.

Mrs. John Bornhauser returned home Saturday after spending a week visiting various friends in Louisville.

Captain W. D. Newbill is spending a week or two with his family at his country home here, on account of the canal being closed, and his boat Pell City being laid up.

Thomas Schorch, of Louisville, has been the recent guest of his sister, Mrs. W. B. Newbill.

Mrs. C. J. Downey, who has been spending a month with her daughter, Mrs. Will Schneider, at O'Bannon is expected home next week.

Miss Mayme Clore entertained the Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian church elaborately at her home Thursday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frank, Mrs. Lawrence Cox, Mrs. Clark McDonald, Miss Elizabeth Jones and Nellie Hoke spent several days in Louisville the past week attending the Eastern Star Chapter of the Grand Lodge of Masons.

Master Louis Newbill and Paul Horn have returned from a trip to Evansville on the steamer Pell City.

Miss Nellie Hoke, of Jeffersonville, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Henry Frank.

Miss Lena Browning is visiting friends in Louisville.

Mrs. James Orr, Jr., who has been ill for several weeks is convalescing rapidly and is able to go out.

A box party was given at the home of Jordan Brooks Saturday night for the benefit of Miss Hoke's school.

Mrs. Katherine Browning had a family reunion at her home this week.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of the Pleasant Grove Baptist church, was entertained yesterday by Mrs. C. K. Conn.

Mr. Ringo has concluded his visit to his sister, Mrs. Browning and returned to Scottsburg, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Simpson, of Edyville, Ky., are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Coleman and Mrs. Eliza Polk at Dale.

Mrs. Grifford Gordon, who has recently under gone a severe operation at St. Joseph's Infirmary Lexington, is slowly convalescing.

Rev. B. F. Orr and family moved here the first of the week from Allen, Ky., and are now daily installed in the Methodist parsonage.

Charley Wilson and his law partner, Mr. Landrum, of Smithland, have been recent guests of Mrs. Eliza Polk.

Mrs. and Mrs. Tucker, of Louisville, and Mr. and Mrs. Harley Wood visited Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peary the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clore entertained at dinner Wednesday for the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilcox Smith, of Kokomo, Ind., who are visiting them.

Mr. W. H. Reeling, of Frankfort, is expected next week to visit her brother, Cowan Venable and family.

Dr. and Mrs. James Jordan, of Crescent Hill, spent the week-end with relatives here.

The Jeffersonian's job department is equipped with all new material. For letter heads, bill heads, envelopes, etc., phone 38-8. We can save you money.

SMYRNA

Oct. 21.—Misses Eva and Hallie Robinson and Miss Lillie May Applegate will leave Tuesday for Bowling Green where they will enter Potter Bible College.

Miss Emma Bates entertained a number of friends at a six o'clock dinner Thursday.

Mrs. Frank Applegate entertained Friday evening in honor of her daughter, Miss Lillie May, it being her sixteenth birthday.

Howell Smith, of Shepherdsville, visited his mother, Mrs. W. A. Smith, recently.

Mrs. Duffy and son, Thomas, of near Jeffersonville, Ind., visited James Robinson and wife Sunday. Mr. Robinson is very sick.

Miss Edna Moore spent Saturday and Sunday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moore, of near Fern Creek.

Mrs. Mary Cooper, of Prestonia, and grandson, Morse Cummins, of Louisville, were guests of Mrs. Z. T. Cummins Saturday.

Mrs. W. S. Bates had as her guests the first of the week Mr. and Mrs. Robert Abrams and daughters, Irma and Louise, of Utica, Ind., Mrs. W. H. Keht and son, Edward, and Lawrence Bates and wife, of Jeffersonville, Indiana.

William Phelps and wife, and William Phelps, Sr., of Shepherdsville, visited Mrs. J. P. Nett Saturday. Mrs. Nett is very ill at this writing.

Misses Fannie, Wright and Mamie Decker, of Louisville, visited Miss Eva Robinson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Smith, of near Malott, were guests of Mrs. Smith's brother, Jacob Smyser, Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Cooper, of Prestonia, is visiting Mrs. Harrison Ross this week.

Mrs. Lizzie Knight and children, of Louisville, spent the first of the week at her father's, Charles Emerson.

BUECHEL

Oct. 21.—Miss Gertrude Hikes entertained several guests Sunday evening.

J. B. Finley returned home last week from Martinsville, Ind., very much benefited.

Mrs. Bryan Williams had as her guests Tuesday and Wednesday Misses Elizabeth and Dorothy Skiles and Edna and Amy Neale, of Louisville.

Mrs. Ida Standiford and daughter, Miss Della, were in Louisville Friday.

Sidney Lane, of Idaho, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lane for a few weeks.

Miss Katie Shively will entertain a number of Louisville friends this week.

Mrs. C. Jones, of near Buechel, will have the following relatives, of Indiana, to visit her for several weeks. Mrs. D. Blocher and Mrs. Henry Shova.

Mrs. J. W. Summers had as her guests this week Mr. and Mrs. H. Hedges, of Spencer county.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Graff, Sr., had a large number of Louisville people at their home Sunday.

Miss Mayme Kaiser is staying with Mrs. Henry Kaiser during Mr. Kaiser's absence.

Mrs. Joel Yann and Mrs. Herman Schneider visited the latter's daughter, Mrs. Charles Garbandt, of Louisville, recently.

J. Harrison and family are boarding with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schneider, at Fern Creek, for the winter.

Mary Catherine Taggart spent Tuesday with Geneva Anderson.

LONG RUN

Oct. 18.—E. G. Isaacs and wife visited Mrs. Julia Isaacs the past week.

Mrs. James Johnson is spending two weeks at St. Matthews.

Miss Jennie Wallace and Mrs. Julia Isaacs have returned from a visit to Mrs. T. P. Taylor.

Mrs. Daniel and two children and Miss Louise Bryan spent the week-end with Mrs. James Tucker.

Miss Ida Hank spent a week with Miss Millie Harris.

Mrs. Harrington and Miss Crosby are visiting Mrs. Ben Nell.

Misses Mayme Jennings and Ina Demaree are visiting the Misses Demaree.

Misses Collins and McDowell entertained Saturday at the home of the Misses Demaree.

Mrs. Catherine Melone entertained at dinner Sunday.

He Wanted to "Strip" The Doctor.

A youth was ushered into the presence of the great doctor at the medical college.

"What do you mean?" the Doctor demanded of the attendant, "by bringing this boy in here without stripping him. Strip him to the waist."

The attendant took the boy out, stripped him to the waist and brought him back again.

"Now," said the doctor, brusquely, "what is the trouble?"

"I came, sir," replied the trembling youth, "to collect that bill you owe us."

BOOKS OF THE BIBLE.

These lines were composed by the Rev. Dr. Stoughton, a distinguished Baptist minister, who was a pastor in Philadelphia and was then President of Columbia College in Washington City, where he died in the year 1829.

The great Jehovah speaks to us
In Genesis and Exodus;
Leviticus and Numbers see,
Followed by Deuteronomy.

Joshua and Judges award the land.
Ruth gleaned a sheaf with trembling hand,
Samuel and numerous Kings appear
Whose Chronicles we wondering hear.

Ezra and Nehemiah now:
Ezra the beauteous mourner show;
Job speaks in sighs, David in Psalms;
The Proverbs teach to scatter aims;
Ecclesiastes then come on
And the sweet Songs of Solomon.

Isaiah, Jeremiah then
With Lamentations takes his pen;
Ezekiel, Daniel, Hoses's lyres,
Seriell, Micah, Nahum come on.

And lofty Tobiah's fond room;
While Zechariah, Hagai calls,
Raph Zachariah builds his walls—
And Malachi with garments rent,
Concludes the Ancient Testament.

MALOTT.

Oct. 21.—Harvey Stout and family and Miss Alma Ester, of Jeffersonville, spent Saturday with F. G. Jean and family.

Mesdames Moses Stivers and Maurice Stout, spent a few days in Louisville with relatives last week.

Mrs. Kirby Smith is on the sick list and has been confined to her room for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Funk and family spent Sunday with Mrs. John Phillips.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Swearingen and Miss Leahla Swearingen, of Mt. Washington, Mrs. Sarah Jean and daughter, of Malott, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Kelley Baird.

F. L. Jean, had as guests Sunday and Monday, Oscar Smith and son, of Camp Point, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Wheeler and family spent Sunday with Mrs. Wheeler's father, who is quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bridwell spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. James A. Beard, of Fisherville.

J. H. Funk is improving his home having built an addition to the rear of his house and a veranda in front and side.

FAIRMOUNT.

Oct. 22.—Roy Sims is still quite sick, being now confined to his bed.

C. C. Fegenbusch is also in bed, his condition being unchanged.

Mrs. Moses F. Johnson is still very ill.

Mr. Ramsey, the carrier on rural route No. 11, is again in his wagon, after a two week's vacation.

Moses T. Bates, one of the popular young men of this community, is now heading the counter in Roy Sims, new store.

John McKeag will soon move his family to a new cottage being erected on Rev. E. W. Elliott's place, at Fern Creek.

Mr. Alpha Thixton has erected a beautiful monument of gray granite over the grave of her recently deceased husband, Dr. Claude A. Thixton, in the Fairmount cemetery.

The many friends of Mrs. L. J. Stivers here are rejoicing over her success before the State Board of Examiners.

PLEASURE RIDGE PARK

Oct. 22.—The Rev. C. M. Johnson, formerly of Buffalo, Ky., new pastor of the Beechland church, and Mrs. Johnson, who have recently moved into their new home near Johnsonstown, were given a housewarming last Thursday evening by the members of his church.

Mrs. T. J. Swindler was the hostess of a delightful birthday dinner given at her home last Friday in honor of the fiftieth birthday anniversary of her husband.

Miss Katherine Jett Kerrick returned from a month's visit with relatives in Bunker Hill and Decatur, Ill.

Miss Irene Hope, who is teaching the Fisherville school, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hope.

Misses Mayme Jennings and Ina Demaree, of Jackson, Miss., spent several days with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Blanton.

The Ladies' Aid, of the Beechland Baptist church, met with Mrs. J. M. Kennedy last Thursday afternoon.

ST. MATTHEWS.

Oct. 21.—Henry M. Bullitt was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hahn last Sunday at their home at Springdale.

Miss Rosa Schoenbacker had a delightful home last Monday evening at her home on the Shelbyville road.

Those present were Misses Carrie and Katie Zeitz, Rosa Schoenbacker and Rosa Ochsen; Messrs. Christy Zeitz, Walker Warner, Chester Miller and Mark Warner, Jr.

Misses Rosa Ochsen, Katie and Nettie Stutzenberger, and Messrs. Arthur Warner, Edna and Willie Stutzenberger attended a birthday party last Saturday, given by Miss Lela Rothenberger.

MISS FRANCES FISCHER ART NEEDLEWORK

New fall novelties just received. Stamping a specialty.

Gaulbert Bldg., 628 Fourth Ave., Louisville, Ky.

BY E. R. SPROWL & CO.

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY.

FOR SALE!

DO YOU WANT A GEM OF A LITTLE FARM?

Then come and see us. We have got it. And right when you want it. 14 acres of good land, on pile, only a short distance from Jeffersontown, and about same distance (1 1-2 miles) from electric line now being built Bardonia Pike. The greater portion of this land will raise anything. Come and see us. WE WILL PRICE IT RIGHT AND MAKE TERMS TO SUIT YOU.

If you have a house to insure, a sale to make, a farm to sell, or want to buy a farm, call on or address us at Jeffersontown, Ky. Cumberland phone.

Auction of Farm Personality a Specialty.

Fred Myers

Successor to J. W. Shafer

Funeral Director & Embalmer

Under the most competent management with dock always complete for the shortest notice. Calls answered promptly day or night.

Cumb. Phone 54, Ring 2, Jeffersontown, Ky.

ESTABLISHED 1851

HOME PHONE 3929

P. G. Berle

Fine Shoes and Rubbers

Work Shoes

Ladies' Specials, Prices $1.50 to $3.00
Men's Specials, Prices $1.50 to $3.50

439-441 E. Market Street, - Louisville, Ky.

OPPOSITE FARMERS' HOME.

Flour!

The best grades of flour that can be bought in this section are the Climax Roller Mill, Shelbyville, and Conley & Stansbury, Smithville.

FOR SALE BY

J. H. Maratta

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY.

Phone us your next order.

DEHLER BROS., Louisville, Ky.

110 E. Market St.

Telephone: Cumb. 3467, Home 1917

NOW IS THE TIME

—TO—

Select Xmas Presents.

FULL LINE OF

Diamonds, Watches, Clocks,
Silverware, Umbrellas, Novelties.

CHAS. W. ROMPEL

JEWELER

419 E. Market St., LOUISVILLE, KY.

23 years' experience; over 12 years with Richard G. Tate.

BAASS' PHARMACY

Prescriptions carefully compounded at all hours.

The Drug Store At the Loop

Home Phone 1770 Cumb. Phone E. 547-A

BAXTER & REINHART

ATLANTA

DR. J. W. WELLS

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY.

Drugs, Medicines,

Staple Groceries, Toilet Articles

Perfumery, Cigars and Tobacco

PHYSICIANS' PRESCRIPTIONS

ACCURATELY FILLED.

THEO. RECTANUS CO.

INCORPORATED

Leading Druggists

CORNER PRESTON & MARKET

California Wines

We have received direct from the vineyards at California a shipment of six-year-old California Wines, which we guarantee to be fully matured and pure fruit juice.

California Sherry

BREVITIES

Fell From Wagon.

Smryna, Oct. 21.—George Emerson, who was thrown from a wagon and rendered unconscious last Monday, is able to be out again.

Leg Broken While at Play.

Highland Park, Oct. 21.—Little Howard Childers, while playing at the graded school here broke both bones in his leg.

Falls Down Stairs.

Mrs. Mollie Stihard fell down a flight of stairs at her home on the Bardstown road and was severely injured, but is now somewhat improved.

Hill-Davis.

Middletown, Oct. 21.—Mr. James Davis and Miss Phyllis Hill, who have been in this neighborhood, were quietly married at the Willard Hotel in Louisville last week.

Moved to Hospital.

Orell, Oct. 21.—C. A. Carmen, the I. C. agent at Meadow Lawn, who is very sick, has been moved to the company hospital at Paducah and is slightly improved.

Sunday-school to Have Children's Day.

Buechel, Oct. 21.—The Beargrass Sunday-school will observe Children's Day, Sunday, October 27th, at half past two. All are cordially invited to attend.

Will Preach Sunday at Bethany.

Orell, Oct. 19.—The Rev. and Mrs. E. D. Boggess and wife, who have moved into the parsonage and Mr. Boggess will preach his first sermon Sunday at Bethany.

Building Road to Cedar Creek.

Fairmount, Oct. 21.—J. C. Bruce is building an extension to the turnpike which leads from the Bardstown pike past the Cedar Creek church. This extension will reach to the home of Miss Mary Smith.

Box Supper at Swamp College.

The Swamp College school, of which Miss Ethel Mills and Alma Ester are the teachers, will have a "box supper" Saturday night, Oct. 26. All are invited to attend and bring boxes.

Anti-Saloon Meeting.

Two meetings under the auspices of the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League will be held in the Christian church here next Sunday at 11 a. m., and 2:30 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend both sessions.

Off on Trip to Oklahoma.

Buechel, Oct. 21.—A number of Buechel people left Tuesday for Oklahoma. Among the party were Mr. and Mrs. John Buechel, and little son, Messrs. Henry Kaiser, Conrad Foreman, Louis Hook, L. Latz and others.

Cal. Thomas Purchases Hampton Property. Middletown, Oct. 21.—Calvin F. Thomas has purchased the old Hampton homestead at O'Bannon, for a home, and will move there some time in the spring. The bungalow where he is now living is for sale.

Ladies' Aid Will Elect Officers.

Orell, Oct. 19.—The Ladies' Aid Society met with Miss Lulla Moremen Thursday and was well attended. The society will meet next Thursday with the president, Mrs. S. E. Dodge, when an election of new officers will be had.

New Bus to Kosmosdale.

Orell, Oct. 19.—Edward Williams, colored, who drives the transfer from Orell to Kosmosdale has purchased A. L. Woods' carriage which will be very comfortable and convenient for the transfer of passengers.

Barn and Horses Burned.

Okolona, Oct. 19.—The many friends of Lee Lamb, the popular carrier on route 3, are sympathizing with him on account of the destruction of his barn by fire about 4 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, Oct. 15. Two horses were badly burned, one had to be killed. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Highway Improvements.

Middletown, Oct. 21.—Wonderful improvements are being made in the roads in this section of the county. The Newcastle, or "old Henry road," as it is familiarly known, has been put in first class order, and is being made into a beautiful pike. Another piece of pike has recently been paved from Fulton to Anchorage, and the old Harrod's creek road is to be macadamized from Middletown to Anchorage. The new bridge being built across Floyd's Fork on the Shelbyville pike is progressing nicely, and a shout of thanksgiving will arise from a traveling public when it is completed. Automobiles can not find the creek, and pedestrians are also seriously hampered.

Injured in Leaving Car.

Buechel, Oct. 21.—Olois Frederick, while alighting from a car last Tuesday, was severely injured. He fell from the rear platform and was picked up unconscious and taken to his home near Fern Creek. Dr. H. P. Stivers is in attendance and reports him as doing nicely.

Accepts Call to Jellico Church.

Middletown, Oct. 19.—The Rev. G. Fischer Bell, pastor of the Anchorage Presbyterian church, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the church at Jellico, Ky., and will go there to enter upon his new work some time next month. The church here and the community at large regret to lose him.

McKinney-Loug.

Fairmount, Oct. 21.—Mr. George J. Long and Miss Helen Corinne McKinney were married in Louisville Wednesday, October 18. The marriage took place at 6 o'clock, a. m. at the Cathedral of the Assumption. After a wedding breakfast at the beautiful home of the bride, the couple left for Chicago, Niagara Falls, New York, and other points East. They will make their home at Glen Mary, one of the most beautiful homes here.

Returns to Louisville.

Middletown, Oct. 19.—Mr. Freisch, of Louisville, who has been living here for several years has returned to Louisville to live on account of sending his boys to school. His home has been rented, and will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. William Hite and family, who will shortly move to the Freisch place.

Celebrate Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Gregg celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage last Sunday. Only immediate relatives were present. All the community unite in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Gregg many happy returns of the day.

Dig Excavating Shovel.

Middletown, Oct. 19.—Contractor Perkins has had shipped here from Chicago a steam excavating shovel to expedite the moving of dirt for the "fills" along the L. & E. extension. It is operated by a large gasoline engine, and has a capacity for moving enormous quantities of dirt daily. It fills a large wagon a minute, and is being operated on Mrs. W. D. Newbill's farm.

Revival at Methodist Church.

Rev. L. K. May, assisted by the Rev. J. R. McAfee, of the West Branch Methodist church of Louisville, began a series of revival meetings at the Methodist church at this place last Sunday. Mr. McAfee is a very eloquent speaker and should have large audiences. There will be two services a day at 10 o'clock, a. m. and 7 o'clock, p. m. The hearty cooperation of the christian people is requested. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Attending Duroc-Jersey Sales.

L. C. Owings left Tuesday to attend sales exclusively for Duroc-Jersey swine at Springfield, Yellow Springs and Lynchburg, Ohio. Mr. Owings' Duroc-Jerseys have a wide reputation and he is constantly on the lookout for desirable additions to his pens. He is now building an up-to-date model house for the shelter of his hogs during the winter.

Allen-Arms.

Valley Station, Oct. 22.—Miss Julia Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Allen, and Mr. Clifford Arms, of Irvington, Ky., were married in Louisville last Wednesday evening. After the ceremony the bridal party came out to the home of the bride's parents, where a supper was served in their honor. Mr. and Mrs. Arms will reside near Valley Station.

Entertained in Honor of Birthday.

Mrs. Sam Fryer, formerly of this place but now of Lebanon Junction, entertained in honor of her little daughter, Lora May, who attained her sixth birthday last week. The dining table, with three large cakes, covered six lighted candles, was handsomely decorated with tinsel, the cake scheme being red and green. Probably one hundred guests were in attendance, sixty of them being children. Quite a number of presents were received, one of them being a little diamond ring from Mr. Horace Benton.

School Closed on Account of Scarlet Fever. Pleasure Ridge Park, Oct. 22.—The Baker school, District 65, has been closed on account of scarlet fever. The contagion was brought into the neighborhood by little Edith Beah, who with her mother, Mrs. B. Beah, visited relatives in Owensboro about three weeks ago. While there she was exposed to the fever but it did not break out until she had started to school. Dr. J. W. Blanton and Dr. S. S. Posa are attending the children.

PERSONAL

Items for this column should be mailed or telephoned to The Jeffersonian on Monday of each week. Items must be short and fit the chance of publication. Phone 36-2.

William Hummel spent Saturday with his son, Harry Hummel.

Mrs. Harry Hummel and children spent Thursday in Louisville.

Miss Ida Robin is the guest of her father, Alfred Robin, at Heady road.

Mrs. E. R. Sprowl and Mrs. W. T. Buchanan spent Tuesday in Louisville.

Mrs. E. C. Miller, of Louisville, was the guest of Mrs. Buchanan Monday.

Cal. White, of California, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Leon Comin-gor.

Mrs. Sue Moore and little son, Willie, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Nutter Sunday.

William Omer and son, Presley, have returned to their home at Camp Point, Ill.

Miss Bessie Pound, of the Cedar Springs neighborhood, is visiting Mrs. Wes. Omer.

Mrs. Henry Frank and son, of Mid-dletown, were the guests of Mrs. Tom Hoke this week.

H. A. Hummel attended the M. E. District Stewards' meeting at the Temple in Louisville last week.

Mrs. Rosetta Gill, of Louisville, spent several days of last week with her sister, Miss Mamie Hofelich.

Miss Mamie Hofelich attended a surprise party at Mrs. Cooper's, on Chestnut street, Louisville, last week.

Miss Lucy Howell has returned to her home in Crescent Hill after a week's visit with her aunt, Mrs. W. T. Buchanan.

Mrs. W. P. Johnson, of Louisville, and Mrs. James Delta, of New Albany, spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Stark, at the Jones House.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hoke, Mrs. J. O. Nutter and Miss Harriett Marshall spent Thursday with Capt. Howard and family, of Jeffersonville, Ind.

Miss Maude Miller, of Louisville, is the guest of Miss Annie Tyler, and Miss Helen Kendall, of Louisville, this week.

Miss Maude Miller, of Louisville, is the guest of Miss Annie Tyler, and Miss Helen Kendall, of Louisville, this week.

Clarence Omer and wife, of Malott, and Mrs. Ivy Hoke and son, Prof. Harry Hoke, of Louisville, spent Sunday with Mrs. Wes. Omer and Mrs. El. Hoke.

William Fisher and wife, of Seatonville, Morris Stout, wife and little son, and L. Ulrich, of Louisville, were guests of Henry Haylor and family Sunday.

Misses Katie Bear, Carrie Sweeney, Ethel Hummel and Margie Harris, and Messrs. Rowland Tyler and Howard Busch visited Miss Lyle Tyler Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Turney, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Acuff, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bierman, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cohen, were the guests of Mrs. Viola Howell Sunday.

Henry Robin, wife and little son, of Grand Rapids, Mich., are visiting the former's father, Alfred Robin, near Heady road. Mr. Robin is a well-known traveling salesman.

Mr. and Mrs. K. S. Mills, of Malott; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tyler and baby, of Routt, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morse, of this place, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Llew Jones Sunday.

SOUTH PARK

Wagon Load of Charcoal Destroyed By Fire. Residence Being Built By N. F. Ralisor—Social Events.

Oct. 21.—Will Caple had a load of charcoal and the bed on his wagon destroyed by fire Wednesday night. Jesse Miles left for Pittsburgh Saturday morning for a visit to his sister, Mrs. George W. Wilson.

Mrs. M. J. Morgan spent a few days this week with her daughter, Mrs. C. R. Churchman.

Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Hill had as their guests Sunday Misses Florence Carothers and Collier, of Louisville.

Newton F. Ralisor is building a six room house on his lot in Fairdale.

Miss Josephine Weber was the guest of Miss May Preisler Friday night.

The Rev. E. D. Boggess preached at Mt. Holly M. E. church Sunday to a large congregation.

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Bohannon, of Louisville, spent Monday with Felix Buckman.

W. M. Armstrong spent Sunday in Jeffersonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Samuels, of Barratton, spent Friday night with their daughter, Mrs. B. L. Morgan.

Misses Mamie and Fannie Armstrong spent Thursday with their father, Mrs. E. V. Farmer, of Oakdale.

John Morgan and Ike Lee spent Sunday with Lanny Farmer.

Little Miss Katharine Farmer spent Saturday night with her grandparents, S. R. Armstrong and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Miles and Mrs. J. W. Fisher spent Sunday afternoon with Dr. E. M. Filley and wife.

HARROD'S CREEK.

Hardin Dairy Sale Well Attended But Prices Were Low—J. L. Hampton, of Goshen, Removes to Louisville.

Oct. 22.—J. L. Hampton, of Goshen, had a sale of all his personal effects, realted his farm and gone to Louisville to live on account of the health of his son, Wallace Hampton, who suffered a sun-stroke two years ago.

The sale of the dairy herd of A. W. Harrod's Sons last week was well attended but prices were comparatively low.

On account of the continued ill health of Miss Fanny B. Hobson, she will not leave for Nashville to attend school until after Christmas.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING.

Advertisements under this head One Cent a word. No ad taken for less than 10c.

Lost—On Route 18 heavy corduroy lap-rug; return to L. M. Bryan, Jeffersontown post-office, or to Buechel postoffice and receive reward.

Wanted—To buy 2,000 hens. H. H. Dickel, Jeffersontown, Ky. Cumberland phone, 164.

Wanted—Man or woman having horse and buggy to canvass the county; salary or commission. THE JEFFERSONIAN.

For Sale—New photograph, Kaufman make, never been used but once; can be seen at Highland Stables, Louisville. 30-2.

For Sale—Fifty high grade homers for breeding fliers or squabs; will sell cheap to close out. R. H. Satterly, Jeffersontown, Ky.

For Sale—Radiant Home alright heater, with pipe, zinc base, sheet-iron screen and coal rack; all in splendid condition. R. H. Satterly, Jeffersontown, Ky.

For Sale—Fourteen choice lots in Jefferson town; also, four-room cottage; new; want to buy six hundred bushels of corn; also, one fifteen inch bay mare mule. J. C. Bruce, 30-2.

FOR SALE!

Lot of nice Gilts, soon to farrow; lot of nice Shoats, weighing from 35 to 50 pounds.

3 nice young Boars, "Pure Berkshire" sired.

Lot of nice sows and pigs. All the above pure bred Berkshires.

For Service.

Best Pure Bred Berkshire Boar in county. Service fee $1.00.

H. A. HUMMEL.

R. F. D. 14, Jeffersontown, Ky. Cumberland Phone 37-3.

THE LOUISVILLE MARKET.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 23.

CATTLE

Choice to prime steers.....	$5 00 to 5 25
Medium to prime steers.....	4 50 to 5 00
Choice butcher steers.....	4 25 to 4 50
Medium to good butchers.....	3 75 to 4 15
Common to medium butchers.....	3 00 to 3 50
Good to choice cows.....	3 00 to 3 50
Common to medium feeders.....	3 50 to 4 00
Good to extra stock steers.....	3 50 to 4 00
Common to medium stock steers.....	3 25 to 4 00
Good to choice stock heifers.....	3 00 to 3 50
Good to medium stock heifers.....	2 50 to 3 00
Calves.....	1 00 to 2 25
Choice to fancy milk cows.....	35 00 to 40 00
Medium to good milk cows.....	25 00 to 30 00
Fair common milk cows.....	10 00 to 20 00
Plain light mixed stockers.....	2 50 to 3 00
Choice veal calves.....	6 50 to 7 00
Common to medium lambs.....	2 50 to 3 50

HOGS.

Choice packing and butchers 200 to 300 lbs.....	6 50
Medium packers 150 to 200 lbs.....	6 00
Choice light hogs 150 to 180 lbs.....	6 25
Choice pigs 80 to 120 lbs.....	5 50
Good pigs 50 to 80 lbs.....	5 25 to 5 50
Roughs 150 to 200 lbs.....	5 50 to 5 75

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

Good to choice fat sheep.....	4 25 to 4 50
Fair to good.....	3 50 to 4 25
Common to medium.....	2 00 to 3 25
Bucks.....	2 00 to 3 00
Choice Spring Lambs.....	6 00 to 6 50
Common fall and tams.....	5 00 to 6 00

WHEAT.

No. 2 red and longberry.....	81 00
No. 2 red and longberry.....	80 00

CORN.

No. 3 white.....	67 00
No. 3 mixed.....	67 00

OATS.

No. 2 mixed.....	54 00
------------------	-------

BUTTER.

Butter.....	19 00
-------------	-------

POULTRY.

Hens.....	08
Spring chickens.....	08 to 11
Young chickens.....	08 00

EGGS.

Eggs.....	30
-----------	----

VEGETABLES.

Red and yellow home-grown onions, 65c. per bush; parsley, 40c. per dozen; radishes, 10c. per dozen; bunches new cabbage, $1.00 per bush; home-grown beans, 75c. per bush; potatoes, 80c. per bush; green pepper 8c. per bu.; home-grown tomatoes, $1.25 per bush; home-grown turnips, 15c. per dozen bunches; home-grown kale, 50c. per bush.

Fanelli Bros.

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY.

JUST RECEIVED

FROM NEW YORK

150 BOXES IMPORTED

MACARONI

If you want a good Italian dish

TRY IT

Read the following directions and cut them out and keep them for future use:

Directions For Cooking Macaroni

The most perfect way to cook Italian Macaroni, is to put the macaroni into a pot of boiling water, with enough salt to suit the taste; let it boil not more than twenty minutes; as soon as cooked, put in a big glass of cold water and pour the macaroni into a strainer.

Gravies For Macaroni

There are many different ways of making gravies, and we give you a few of the best receipts:

To obtain a very rich gravy it is necessary to make it out of good beef or chicken stock, with dry mushrooms, (if desired) tomato paste, parsley and such herbs as are generally found in soup bunches; small pieces of onions should be previously fried in butter until a gold color is obtained. A quantity of grated Edam, Romano or Caciocavallo cheese (which is the king cheese for macaroni) should be sprinkled through the macaroni, covering the top of which with the cheese and serve hot.

None but the Italian Macaroni will stand boiling twenty minutes; therefore, no other is as good.

If dry mushrooms are used they must be soaked in lukewarm water from 1 to 2 hours, pour the water off and add mushrooms into the gravy, which will be delicious.

If you do not like dried mushrooms you can substitute French Champignons in cans.

Fanelli Bros. have always on hand a full and fresh supply of the necessary condiments, and genuine Italian Macaroni at reasonable prices.

Directions for Making Macaroni Soup

Take chicken or beef and make a nice soup, and when nearly done, take out the meat and add the vermicelli, Fedini or any other paste; then boil about ten minutes more. Serve hot with grated cheese.

NOTICE—The very best pure and genuine Italian Macaroni are imported in boxes of 25 lbs. each. Macaroni put up in any other way is a poor imitation—nothing else but common domestic paste, which can not withstand twenty minutes boiling.

We Are Sole Agents For

F. Bertoli Olive Oil

Made in Lucca, Italy.

The high indisputable reputation of BERTOLI brand of Lucca Olive Oil on the markets of the universe acquired by its superlative purity and exceedingly fine quality and by its excellent taste, has considerably increased its demand.

The Bureau of Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture & Commerce of the United States, Prof. Cav. G. Rossati, Director of the Royal Eotecnico Institution in New York, the Department of Health in Lucca, and many other similar institutions have recognized and publicly declared it to be Pure Olive Oil, and as such has been endorsed by the highest medical celebrities for medicinal purposes.

It has become known to us that unscrupulous merchants have adulterated a considerable quantity, selling it freely, some times at even lower prices than it is possible to sell the genuine article, taking advantage of the good faith of the public. We have come across some cans which we had analyzed and were found to contain a large percentage of Cotton Seed Oil.

While we advise our clients to examine carefully as to whether the cans they buy have been resold, we request them and their patrons to destroy all empty cans. We beg them also to inform us at any time they are convinced or even suspicious of adulteration, thus placing us in a position to discover the perpetrators of such fraud and as the brand and trademark are registered at Washington will act in accordance with instructions received from Mr. Francesco Bertoli whom we represent, and proceed to punish the fraud or frauds to the full extent of the law.

Fresh Meats

Pork, Lamb, Veal, Beef, always on hand and always fresh. Killed right here at home. Try it and see for yourself. Prices the lowest.

Bring Your Veal and Get Your Beef!

FANELLI BROS., Jeffersontown, Ky.

ENGAGED GIRL

Weds Another Suitor Secretly and Marriage Is Not Revealed Until Day Before Wedding.

Miss Nellie Applegate, of Kosmosdale, becomes Mrs. Guy McClure instead of Mrs. Howard Miller.

MARRIED IN JEFFERSONVILLE.

Kosmosdale, Oct. 22.—The secret wedding of Miss Nellie Applegate, daughter of Dr. A. B. Applegate to Guy McClure, an Illinois Central telegraph operator, at Kosmosdale, has just been made public. They were married in Jeffersonville by Magistrate James S. Kelgwin, Sept. 5. Mr. McClure came here from Leitchfield and he and his bride are now at that place. The marriage of the bride to Howard Miller, of Meadow Lawn, was scheduled to be solemnized last Tuesday. On the day before she told her father of her secret marriage to Mr. McClure.

ORELL

Oct. 19.—Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Stone-street were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Sanders Sunday.

Frank Turner and wife have rented the old farmers place and have gone to housekeeping.

Miss Emma Beate is the guest of Mrs. Henry Saffran.

S. J. Groom, wife and daughters, Luella and Jessie, and Edward Craig spent Sunday at Tiago with Mr. Groom's brother, Frank Groom, who fell from his barn roof and was very badly hurt last week.

Miss Luella Groom attended the funeral of John T. Sprout in Louisville Friday.

Mrs. H. F. Bohannon and Robert Bohannon have returned to Louisville after spending the summer at their home at Meadow Lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Alsop were given a "kitchen shower" Wednesday night at the Kosmosdale Hall. They received several nice presents.

OKOLONA

Oct. 19.—Doubtless the politicians of Louisville are realizing that they will have the women to reckon with in the approaching election. Since the party lines have been dropped and the issue is "open or closed saloons on Sunday," you will see more "good old 'straight ticket'" Democrats marching to the polls, (with their wives' private instructions haunting them) and vote—not the Republican ticket, mind you—against open saloons on Sunday. What has "party" to do with a determined woman on the temperance question? In a recent article in the Times we see that the numerous arrests the last few clean months are due to closed saloons on Sundays, but it occurs to others that perhaps the police force are wary of the proverbial "new broom" and are more zealous of their duty. Here's to the extermination of the saloon entire, anyhow. How do we hate 'em!!!

Miss Sarah Mills, of Newburg, entertained a few friends at dinner Sunday.

The Rev. J. E. Willis, after having spent the summer in the South has returned to the Seminary and filled his usual appointment at Meadow Home Baptist church Sunday.

The Rev. J. E. Thornberry preached at Newburg Christian church Sunday.

The Rev. Ben Cox, of Middletown, will preach there next Sunday.

Norman Jenkins has rented the farm of Mrs. Emma Young, who recently moved to the city.

Miss Mamie Hays, of Louisville, spent Saturday and Sunday with her mother.

Miss Irene Brooks, of Bullitt county, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. G. Priest.

EASTWOOD

Oct. 18.—Mrs. Julia Isaac and Miss Jennie Wallace spent several days in Louisville last week.

Mrs. Miller Blackwell and daughter, Miss Sue, spent Thursday in Louisville.

J. M. Collins and Thomas McDowell entertained quite a number of their friends last Saturday night at the home of Miss Belle Demerece.

Mrs. Jas. Brengman and Mrs. A. J. Sturgeon spent several days in Louisville last week.

J. D. Johnson will entertain the Long Run Club at his home Saturday night, Oct. 20.

Miss Kathryn Pearce, of Louisville, spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Wilber Blackwell.

Mrs. A. Levy spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Chas. New, of Louisville.

A. W. Jones, of Louisville, spent a few days last week with Wilber Blackwell.

Mrs. Frank Beckley and baby visited Mr. George Beier this week.

Thomas Scoesh, of Louisville, spent last week with his cousin, Mrs. W. D. Newbill and family.

Mrs. Jennie Pearce, of Louisville, spent last Tuesday with her son, Max Pearce.

Miss Sallie Washburn, who has spent two months with John Beckley and family has gone to Mrs. Allen Sturgeon's to spend the remainder of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Omer Jones and children visited relatives in Middletown this week.

A surprise "Euchre" was given Misses Nicholson, of Fisherville, by the young people of this place. The ladies' private instructions haunting them) and vote—not the Republican ticket, mind you—against open saloons on Sunday. What has "party"

WORTHINGTON

Protracted Meeting at Methodist Church—New Road Completed—Mrs. Quessenberry Recovering.

Oct. 21.—Mrs. J. L. Quessenberry, who is suffering with nervous prostration at the Beechurst Sanitarium, is greatly improved and will be moved home Wednesday.

Protracted meeting in charge of Rev. George Froh, of La Grange, began at the Methodist church Sunday and will continue two weeks.

Mrs. Laird entertained the Ladies' Missionary Society at her home at Springdale Tuesday.

The new country road between the Brownsboro pike and the Westport pike, leading to Fry's Hill, Lakeland and Anchorage has been completed.

Roy Monard, who has been dangerously ill with typhoid fever, was removed from his home Sunday to an infirmary in Louisville.

Miss Susie Alexander Downs, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. Current, in Louisville has returned home.

Mrs. J. W. Claxon entertained Mrs. D. H. Wilhoyte, Mrs. Warner Hardin, Mrs. E. H. Kemp, Mrs. Harry Hudson and Miss Ella Hayden Friday.

Miss Mattie Hudson and her mother left last week for Cincinnati to be gone for some time.

Miss Lucie Pernell, of Prospect, was the recent guest of Miss Susie Alexander Downs.

Mrs. Frank Parr and little daughter, of Anchorage, are visiting Mrs. Parr's father, B. Frank Littrell.

Miss Lizzie Evans Claxon has returned home after a visit to her sister, Mrs. Charles Morris, of Louisville.

Collis H. Maddox and family moved last week to their farm recently purchased from J. M. Wheeler.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Taylor are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a girl.

Miss Lizzie Evans Claxon is visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles Morris, of Louisville.

Miss E. D. Pernell spent a few days last week in Louisville with her sister, Mrs. Ida Parsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Groher and daughter, Dora Stine, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Prather, all of Louisville, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Prather.

Miss Jennie Green, of Louisville, spent several days last week with her sister, Mrs. Fannie Cave Green, at Mrs. Noah Maddox's.

Mrs. Xavier Schuler, Sr., and little granddaughter, Viola, were the guests Saturday and Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Xavier Schuler, Jr.

Miss Ella Hayden, of Louisville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. R. Claxon.

Mrs. Laird, of Springdale, is in Middlesboro visiting friends and relatives.

FISHERVILLE

Oct. 23.—Mrs. Richard Bradley and children, of Harrodsburg, have returned after visiting Mrs. Bradley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Beards.

Mrs. N. R. Blankenbaker and Mrs. C. I. Dale spent Friday in Louisville.

John Strong, of Florida, is spending some time with James Smith and family.

Misses Nicholson entertained at euchre Friday night in honor of their visitors, Miss Agnes Fullinwider, of Springfield, Ill., and Miss Elizabeth Cooper, of Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pemberton spent Saturday in Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Weakley, of Finchville, spent Sunday with Mrs. Booker Reid.

Miss Bettie Carothers is the guest of her cousin, Miss Bettie Caumichael.

Lee Curry and wife spent Sunday with friends at Anchorage.

Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Nicholson are the guests of Mrs. Ellen Nicholson.

Mrs. Mary Carpenter spent Wednesday with Mrs. Joe Bennett at Clark.

Miss Carrie Jones, of Shelbyville, has returned after visiting her aunt, Mrs. John Purcell.

Bud Carpenter is very low with typhoid fever.

Mrs. Joe Waters spent several days in Louisville last week.

HIGHLAND PARK

Oct. 21.—Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller, (nee Young) a daughter.

Misses A. Young and A. Deats, of Louisville, spent Sunday with Miss Margaret Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meador spent Sunday last with their mother, Mrs. M. J. Meador.

Miss Mary Orr is on the sick list.

Mrs. W. W. Hill, of South Park, visited the graded school Thursday.

Mrs. George Meador and daughter, Louise, are visiting their mother, Mrs. Kurtimer, of Woodland.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Belfort have moved to their new home.

K. B. Graham, President of the Louisville Fire Brick Works who was hurt, is better and has returned to his office.

THIS IS THE PLACE TO BUY SHOES

We want to impress upon you that this is the place to buy shoes. But nothing we can say will have such force and effect as a sight of the shoes and the prices.

We can afford to spend money for advertising to bring us even a few new customers.

Each new buyer tells a number of friends and if the advertisement brought only a few the few brought many.

We buy the goods right, mark the right prices and have such large stocks that you can get a perfect fit. One visit will convince you that this is the place to buy shoes.

HOFELICH & LAUSMAN, Jeffersontown, Ky.

SHIVELY

Oct. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. George Baker, of New Albany, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shively last Wednesday.

Miss Blanche Larkin, of Cincinnati, who has been the guest of Miss Blanche Westfall for several weeks returned to her home Tuesday.

Dr. and Mrs. N. E. Parker are the proud parents of a son born last Wednesday morning. Dr. Parker is the interne at the Home for the Aged and Infirm.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shively are to sell their farm and household goods next Wednesday. They expect to go south.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

1907 November Election 1907
HERMAN F. MONROE

Republican Nominee for
JAILER

OF JEFFERSON COUNTY

1907 November Election 1907

Dr. Chas. I. Groves

Republican Nominee For
CORONER

of Jefferson County

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.

Elmer C. Underwood

Attorney and
Counselor at Law

Keaton Building, 216 3/4 St.
Cumb. Tel. Main 664.
Home 403 Louisville, Ky.

W. B. LEATHERMAN

Dentist

238 W. Chestnut St.,
Corner Third Louisville, Ky.

Established in 1876. Cumb. Phone Main 3677

W. S. KEMP

(Formerly Surveyor Oldham County.)

SURVEYOR

Harrod's Creek, Kentucky.

Will do surveying anywhere in Jefferson county, or counties adjoining. Satisfaction guaranteed. Reasonable fees. Cumberland telephone, Harrod's Creek Exchange.

G. A. HOKE

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY.

Wall Paper

Paper hanging at reasonable prices. Work guaranteed. Orders given prompt attention.

Special!

Kar-A-Van

COFFEE

Java-and-Mocha $1.00

3 pounds for

We have Coffee that we sell at 15c a pound or 4 pounds for 55c that is equal to any 25-cent coffee that can be bought anywhere else in the United States.

Fanelli Bros.

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY.

BUY YOUR PLASTERING MATERIAL FROM THE OLD RELIABLE PLASTER MANUFACTURERS

KENTUCKY WALL PLASTER CO.

(INCORPORATED)

Manufacturers of all kinds of Plastering Material, including LOUISVILLE WOOD FIBER PLASTER and READY-MIXED DIAMOND WALL PLASTER.

Prompt delivery and square dealing.

Both Phones 2267 Brook and River Louisville, Ky.

Holiday Goods

An exquisite line of Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry being shown

—AT—

CHAS. E. SENG'S, Jeweler,

306 E. MARKET ST., LOUISVILLE, KY.

Headquarters for all kinds of Emblem Goods, Masonic and Eastern Star and all other lodges.

AUCTIONS

—OF—

PERSONAL EFFECTS AND REAL ESTATE

If you have PERSONAL PROPERTY or REAL ESTATE for sale at AUCTION, consult this office. Mr. Gallagher devotes his whole time to this branch of the business. This office has a large clientele for small farms also.

BRUNER

J. G. GALLAGHER,
Salesman and Auctioneer.

355 Fifth St.,
LOUISVILLE.

Home Phone 7550

Hauss-Key Furniture Co.

(INCORPORATED)

STOVES, RUGS, MATTINGS, ETC.

333 E. Market Street

North Side
Bet. Preston and Floyd Louisville, Ky.

JAS. GREENE

Furniture, Carpets, Mattings, Rugs, Lace Curtains, Linoleum, Stoves and Ranges.

425, 427, 429 E. Market St., Louisville.

"Look Who is Here!"

WITH A FULL LINE OF

Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, and Household Furnishings

—AT—

THE LOWEST PRICES

GEO. STRAEFFER'S SON

324-326 E. Market St., bet. Floyd and Preston, Louisville, Ky

Monroe & Miller

REPRESENTING

THE HOME INSURANCE CO. OF NEW YORK

The Largest and Most Popular Fire Insurance Company of its Age in the World.

Cash Assets Jan. 1, 1907, Twenty-One Million Dollars

Insures against loss by Fire, Lightning, Windstorm and Tornadoes. On the installment, Cash or Single Note Plan.

For 20 years The Home has been protecting the people of this territory without a single LITIGATED loss claim. We will say to those who have Home policies expiring in the near future not to be worried, as we will call in due time to renew you in The Home.

J. B. MONROE, P. K. MILLER,
Shepherdsville, Ky. Jeffersontown, Ky.

Cumberland Phone in Residence.